

emPower e-learning Solutions launches course to train employees and help you create policies on new amendments on HIPAA and ARRA act

emPower launches HIPAA and ARRA training course to help you understand the policy along with its changes and amendments and the policies can be easily implemented at your organization to keep you compliant.

emPower provides e- learning courses as mandated by the U.S. Government and other regulatory bodies like HIPAA, OSHA, Joint Commission and Red Flags rule. The successful passage of the new Health plan of Obama Government and resultant health care regulations have made it mandatory for the Covered health service providers, Practices and their Business Associates to achieve complete compliance to stay on the right side of the law. This, they can easily do by providing proper compliance training to their employees and in process eliminate expensive compliance risks. The latest amendment to HIPAA Privacy and Security rule, which came into effect from February 17, 2010, makes it mandatory for all the Covered entities to revise their Business Associate Contract.

emPower has made changes to their existing HIPAA catalog to accommodate the new changes that has become effective no later than February 2010.

We have introduced an online course – to explain the changes and the new law and how it affects you and your vendor.

The course trains both the existing and prospective Business Associates to achieve complete compliance to the HIPAA norms through secure and efficient documentation, management and transaction of the patient health information with the Covered entities as per their written business agreement.

Apart from that we have added policies to help implement the law at your organization –

- Amendment related to Business Associate Contract that can be readily used for your organization and your vendors
- Template privacy policy that can be readily implemented at your practice or organization
- Template security plan to be implemented at your practice or organization
- Breach of privacy form for your employees
- Reporting Procedure and Decision Tree

The course trains both the existing and prospective Business Associates to achieve complete compliance to the HIPAA norms through secure and efficient documentation, management and transaction of the patient health information with the Covered entities as per their written business agreement.
