

emPower e-Learning Solutions developing new Learning Management System

emPower is developing in-house, LMS with array of interactive features, which will make e-learning an enjoyable experience for learners.

Louisville, Kentucky (May 2010) - emPower e-Learning Solutions provides array of compliance courses, which enable the practices to ensure that all its employees are up-to-date on Government mandated compliance and HR policies. Presently we partner with Cosaint for our LMS. The LMS is SCORM and LM- Light compliant.

In our efforts to make e-learning an enjoyable experience we are developing in-house Learning Management System which will host range of customized interactive features. Our LMS development In-charge, Mr. Harshal Shah says, "A well integrated e-portal (LMS) plays crucial role in success of the online courses. The LMS should allow maximum interaction between instructors and learners by providing real time environment, on-line."

Keeping this in mind our team is working zealously to equip our LMS with features like:

- Social networking
- Graphically Representation of Reports
- E- portfolio
- SCORM,AICC, LM-light, 508 compliant
- Library feature for better content management
- Whiteboard feature- enables a two way online live interaction between instructor and learner.
- Online chatting and conferencing.

This all features will provide a real-time classroom effect to our LMS users and allow a very smooth bidirectional flow of information, necessary for success of any e-learning course. The in built SCORM compliance features ensure interoperability and allow the users to share different online courses on our LMS.
